SIEMENS
Ingenuity for life

Kurt John
Chief Cybersecurity Officer
Siemens USA

Kurt John is Chief Cybersecurity Officer of Siemens USA, where he is responsible for the Cybersecurity strategy, governance and implementation for the company's largest market - ~$25B in annual revenues.

In this role Kurt oversees the coordination of Cybersecurity for our products, solutions, services and infrastructure used to deliver value to Siemens USA's customers. Kurt is also a member of the Siemens Cybersecurity Board (CSB) where he works alongside other leaders to set strategy, address global challenges, and evaluate actions for opportunities.

Prior to joining Siemens, Kurt spent over 8 years working in IT and Cybersecurity consulting advising private organizations, federal, state and local governments. His background is in computer science.